

Re: Update fields !

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Access/microsoft.public.access.forms/2004-12/0479.html>

From: Dan Artuso (dartuso_at_NOSPAMpagepearls.com)

Date: 12/03/04

Date: Fri, 3 Dec 2004 14:17:16 -0500

Hi,

Sorry, I think I misunderstood what you wanted.

You cannot do this by entering data directly into tables, you have to use forms.

--

HTH

Dan Artuso, MVP

"Dan Artuso" <dartuso@NSpagepearls.com> wrote in message news:eR01DNT2EHA.3908@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.g

> Hi,

> Pretty much anything is possible, you just have to code it.

> In this case you would use a SQL Update statement and execute it in code.

> The values for the fields you are updating are taken from the controls on the form.

>

> I'll give you the general idea. In this sample, there are two controls on the form that have da

>

> Dim strSql as String

>

> strSql = "Update yourTable Set dateField1 = #" & Me.controll1 & _

> "#, dateField2 = #" & Me.control2 & "#"

> CurrentDb.Execute strSql, dbFailOnError

>

> Dates must be delimited with #

> Strings with quotes '

> Numbers need no delimiters

>

> For dates, if your format is not mm/dd/yyyy you might want to use the Format function > to put them in this format, otherwise Jet gets confused as to which part is the month and which

>

> You can also run into trouble with strings if they have embeded quotes within ("Dan's Bar & Gri > but that's a whole other topic.

>

> --

> HTH

> Dan Artuso, Access MVP

>

>

> "peter junker" <junker1@aliceposta.it> wrote in message news:NDVrd.248844$b5.12160131@news3.tin

> > Hello - if id like to update fields in a table, without using a form, is > > this possible

> > automaticly after i left a field.

> > for example - i put in the coustomer ID - after i did update the field, id > > like to update based on the coustomer ID - all the dates directly in this > > table (the fields) , not in the form!

> >

Re: Update fields !

microsoft.public.access.forms: Re: Update fields !

> > thanks peter
> >
> >
>
>