Hi Everyone,

I am very new to this but so far have managed to create a small database with a few tables linked together and a few queries.

I have also created some reports and forms.

Using the switch board I would like to open a form in edit mode, which has been filtered by default base on the following two conditions:

- Status = Open
- Trace date = Any date during this week. Basically I would like the date range to change automatically depending on the current week. The current week being Monday to Sunday.

What is the code and where do I enter it?

I am using Access 2000.

Many thanks

Anguel.
