Hi There,

Does anybody know of a simple graphical user interface software solution to assist replication for MS-Access 2000 via FTP or HTML that can be automatically scheduled?

I have seen a bewildering amount of writing on a bewildering amount of code to work around the replication manager, which has now disappeared. I don't really have the time to understand and impliment it.

If there is no such solution then there is a golden opportunity for somebody out there who is FAR cleverer than I.

Cheers

Martin Rowe
