Hi All

I am trying to connect from ASP.Net app to an Access Db.

Some background info:

If i don't specify a userid an pwd.. I get this error

The Microsoft Jet database engine cannot open the file 'C:\Documents and Settings\rogersn\My Documents\EEECourses.mdb'. It is already opened exclusively by another user, or you need permission to view its data."

If i specify a userid (aspnet) no password I get

Cannot start your application. The workgroup information file is missing or opened exclusively by another user

If I specify any other mdb on my machine...
NO Problem...???

I have subsequently used the mdw file, joined it , created an aspnet user, all permissions under admins group for the whole bang shoot and still no joy.

Then used the permissions wizard and now all my db's pop up a login dialog, which I really ...really don't want ie

Q How do I get rid of the whole permissions, / login screen security.

Q2 Anybody have any idea why I would get these connection error messages

TIA
Neal
