

Re: Renamed Admin Accounts 30 min Delayed Login to Client Workstations

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/BackOffice/microsoft.public.backoffice.smallbiz2000/2004-09/0688.html>

From: Henry Craven (IUnknown_at_Dot.Nyet)

Date: 09/14/04

Date: Tue, 14 Sep 2004 16:59:32 +1000

The Administrator isn't set up with a Roaming Profile by any chance ?

--

Henry Craven {SBS-MVP}

Melbourne Australia

"Randy Chow" <randy@itfiredp.com> wrote in message news:uMgfYHgleEHA.596@TK2MSFTNGP11.phx.gbl...

> Good-evening everyone, I posted this earlier and several people tried to > help me out. I was wonder if someone can help me out with Windows > Small Business Server 2000 domain controller and client desktop logon with > administrator account. I have a domain controller which has been in > operation for quite some time. The original administrator account has been > renamed for security as is all our other clients ever since the beginning of > the server's life span. But when I try to use the account to login to any > client machine joined to the domain, whether it be a new install or not, the > system stalls at Loading profile and settings... > window, but the mouse is still active, and the blue animated line on the > window still scrolls. When I remove the Home Folder of the administrator > account it works fine. But when I add back the home folder it fails.
The > Home Folder is a network share. After waiting for 30 min or so, the login > succeeds and all the mappings are correct. I have a feeling that the login > is trying to query the AD for this property and is not returning the value > of the Home Folder. I can of course still login to the Server and login
> to server using Terminal Services with this renamed administrator account.
> Any help would be great. Thanks.
>
>