Dear,

In my SBS2000, users got power user rights in local pc, I like to create a GPO and activate to the users, like they should not use MSN or yahoo messenger. Can I block these kind of usage through GPO even if they have the power user rights?

I have seen in Windowsserver2003, through GPO I can restrict some program(even for administrator) but this will be applicable to all of the users or server admin?

(sorry I asked this question in a different way before and no real answer for GPO)

pls any help
