

Re: How to fill a Client Side Recordset with a command (sp exec)

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Data/microsoft.public.data.ado/2004-07/0182.html>

From: Val Mazur (group51a_at_hotmail.com)

Date: 07/13/04

Date: Tue, 13 Jul 2004 19:33:30 -0400

Hi,

To be able to open recordset on a client side using Command, you need to set CursorLocation property of the Connection (not recordset) to adUseClient value

--

Val Mazur

Microsoft MVP

"Juan Pablo Schmiede" <jschmiede@hotmail.com> wrote in message news:%23Qq$UKSaEHA.1000@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...

> I'm trying to fill a client side RecordSet with a command executing a > stored > procedure but I can't change de cursor location, I'd also tried using > named > command from a connection, but i'm having problems with the parameters.
>
> I'm trying to be able to keep de sp execution resultset after i close de > active connection
>
> Please any help wil be usefull
>
>
> JP
>
>