

Re: Problems:: ASP.NET & COM+

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/DotNet/microsoft.public.dotnet.framework.aspnet/2004-02/1345.html>

---

From: Tommy (Websoftwares_at_Hotmail.com)

Date: 02/06/04

Date: 6 Feb 2004 09:05:34 -0800

By default, an ASP.NET web application runs under the "ASPNET" user. This is a local user on the web server, and will not be able to access network resources.

Try changing your web application to run under a network user by adding the following section to the Web.Config file.

```
<identity impersonate="true"
  userName="domain\user"
  password="master"
/>
```

Tommy,

I-touched <anonymous@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:<0E7650F3-905C-482F-BE9C-05C6FCA2B9A5@microsoft.com>...

> Hi!,

>

> I am developing with ASP.NET (VB.NET), I have my web server hosting my aspx pages, in another server I have my COM+ components, I have exported my

Application Proxy from that component, I have installed that

Application Proxy in the web server, both of them servers are in the same domain. I have probed that my Application Proxy without problems in Windows Forms, creating my instances using "CreateObject" statement

[p.e. Dim oAnything As Object = CreateObject("Some.Object") ], without make any previous reference to nothing.

>

> BUT!... but when I want to reproduce the same case using Web Forms.... appear an error when I want to instance the Object [remember: Dim oAnything As Object = CreateObject("Some.Object")], The error is: "Access is Denied".

>

> NOTE: I hope to be clear explani you my case, if you have any question please write it.

>

> Could someone help me with some code, steps, online article, etc?.

>

> Thanks in advance,

>

microsoft.public.dotnet.framework.aspnet: Re: Problems:: ASP.NET & COM+

> l-touched