Hello:

I have an asp.net program. it imports one file, and does some operations for each row, in each row, it uses transaction, if there are a lot of data in the file, program runs very slow. Then I step into debug mode, I found a problem, even the program is end, but the page seems still be running, the process in the statusbar is still going! This doesn't happen when data are not many.

Does anyone know how to resolve this problem?

Thanks in advance!
