HI All

I have a problem in Opening a Web page URL from window form.I am using the following code

```
System.Diagnostics.Process.Start( stdBrowser, http://test.user.com/abcd.asp?username=xyz&password=abcd);

That is working fine but the problem is

The Url is visible in the address box of the browser. Often the URL contains data (username, password) that should not be visible to the user.

I need to Find a way to call a URL without making the URL visible. The response should be displayed a new instance of the system's web browser

OR some how i need to hide these username & password

regards,
Pankaj Jain
