Hi

I recently converted a project to a Web Application Project and the Application_Start event no longer fires in my global.asax.cs file on our live Windows 2003 Server. It all works fine when running under XP on my local dev machine though.

I have tried adding a new global.asax using the Add->New menu option, and then copying the code over but this hasn't fixed the problem.

Has anyone encountered this at all?

Thanks

Ben
