Did you add the `runat="server"` attribute to the table element? Also, if it's an HTML table, make sure you set the ID and not just the Name. Both of these can exist in HTML for valid reasons but ASP.Net will only use the ID attribute and not the name.

I named my table with F4 (properties) and it doesn't seem to be recognized in my project.
How can I make it NOT visible under certain conditions?
Thanks,
Trint
