When I run my Web Form containing one ASP Textbox and one ASP Button created in VS 2005 on Windows 2000, the webform looks ok, however when I run the same web page on my Laptop having Windows XP, the Button increases its Width and Stretches, if I change the Button Style Position from Absolute to Relative, it goes back to its original width, any idea what could be the problem ?

I have set my Default Layout Positioning in VS 2005 to Absolute Positioning.

Best Regards,
