

Re: For Bob Powell: The code for storing of multipage TIFFs misses some tags

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/DotNet/microsoft.public.dotnet.framework.drawing/2004-07/0127.html>

From: Bob Powell [MVP] (bob_at_spamkiller_bobpowell.net)

Date: 07/14/04

Date: Thu, 15 Jul 2004 00:49:12 +0200

Hello,

I just used the standard encoder and didn't examine or modify the tags explicitly. If anything has changed it's due to the standard GDI_ encoders.

Bob.

--

Bob Powell [MVP]

Visual C#, System.Drawing

The Image Transition Library wraps up and LED style instrumentation is available in the June of Well Formed for C# or VB programmers

<http://www.bobpowell.net/currentissue.htm>

Answer those GDI+ questions with the GDI+ FAQ

http://www.bobpowell.net/qdiplus_faq.htm

The GDI+ FAQ RSS feed: <http://www.bobpowell.net/faqfeed.xml>

Windows Forms Tips and Tricks RSS: <http://www.bobpowell.net/tipstricks.xml>

Bob's Blog: <http://bobpowelldotnet.blogspot.com/atom.xml>

"Alexander" <as@infoman.de> wrote in message news:83bf891.0407141215.50524d96@posting.google.com...

> Hello Bob,

>

> after I convert an TIFF file, obtained from Windows 2000 Fax Service, > the new file has no tag 266 any more and has the tag 254 with value 0

> instead of 2. Do you know a way

> - how can I set some tag like 254

> - how can I add some tag, that the original image doesn't have?

>

> Regards,

> Alexander