Hi all

I have an application that seems to be having an ongoing battle with my firewall.

I am using a webservice to send back data to a SQL server database. Between the two machines is an ISA 2004 firewall.

The firewall is set up so that it only allows authenticated traffic (i.e. Windows user based). I cannot seem to get past the proxy authentication problems.

I have changed the web.config file, and this seems to make no difference.

Any ideas?

Thanks

Saira
