Hi all,

We are looking for a .net library/component that will enable us to do the following:-

1. Generate a barcode that can be downloaded via a web browser in PDF format.
2. The customer essentially downloads the PDF prints it out and uses it as a cover sheet to fax documents into us.
3. Upon receipt of the fax (PDF), we scan the PDF document package for the barcode, decode the unique document identifier and upload it into our database under that specific customer record.

Thanks all!
