Regarding your change of subject line, I would retort: "Go ahead. Stop using C#. That will stop you from being hindered by its rules." Seriously, if you dislike so many design decisions of a language, why use it?

Jon

Why to work to satisfy all the perverse desires of the masters who kill our planet? Yea, we are "free". We are allowed not to use English, even not to use Windows. At this point you should suggest me to design my own language (to talk to myself). The liberals can even mention you that you are free not to breath if you do not like to. In other words: "If you do not like our way of ruling the world, you are free to die". Are they serious?
