Hi Hugo,

as you describe it, it seems a bug of the application. Why do you think it is connected with the installation project?

Hi everyone!

I've made a windows application and, of course, I would like be able to intall it!!! I've tried for many days and I get the same error every day... First I tried with InstallShield 11.5, the program seems to install perfectly but when I tried to launch the program I got this tiny windows saying "5 value cannot be null. type: mscorlib.dll"... So I get tired and I decided to use the setup project of VB.Net and I get the same error over and over.... Please any help will be appreciate! I've been stuck on this for several days...

Thanks in advanced!!!!
