Perhaps one way ..

Assuming the sample data:

- > 5/7/04 16:03 Jon Smith
- > 5/10/04 9:02 Raul
- > 5/10/04 15:59 Joe Bloke
- > 5/11/04 8:57 Ben Over
- > 5/11/04 15:59 Smiley Face
- > 5/12/04 9:06 Ronaldo
- > 5/12/04 15:59 Shaft
- > 5/13/04 9:27 Lorna
- > 5/13/04 16:12 RVN
- > 5/14/04 8:19 Roger

is in A1:A10

Let's split the data first

Select col A

Click Data > Text to columns

("Delimited" will be selected)

Click Next

In step2 of the wiz.:

Check the box for "space" > click Next

In step3 of wiz.:

In the data preview pane: click to select the first col (the dates col)

Select "MDY" from the drop menu under "Col data format"

Click Finish

The original data in col A will be split into 4 cols, A to D: Date, Time, Name1 & Name2

Now to apply the cond format:

Select A1:D10
(i.e. the entire sample data range)

Click Format > Conditional Formatting

Under Condition 1, make the settings:
Formula Is |=>=$B1>TIMEVALUE("9:00 AM")
Click Format button > Patterns tab > Light blue? > OK
Click OK at the main dialog

The above should accomplish what you want:
Rows where the time in col B is > 9:00 am
will be coloured light blue
