

Re: Print VBA code in Editor format colors

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Excel/microsoft.public.excel.programming/2005-10/msg01041.html>

- From: "Tom Ogilvy" <twogilvy@xxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 14 Oct 2005 21:41:13 -0400
-

The vbe does not print in color.

—

Regards,
Tom Ogilvy

"Sarah Jane" <SarahJane@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:54A66868-055D-48CE-9128-934690CEA685@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

> I originally posted this question on 8/8/2005 in > microsoft.public.office.developer.officedev.other, but since I still have not > gotten any response, I decided to try again by posting it in this Discussion > Group.
>
> In the Visual Basic Editor under Tools -> Options -> Editor format, I can > specify the code colors for Normal Text, Comment Text, Keyword Text, etc.
> This is a wonderful feature when trying to edit a macro. However, when I > print the code so that I can review it and pencil in edits that I want to > make when I return to my computer, everything is black even though I sent it > to a color printer. IS THERE A WAY TO PRINT THE CODE IN THE SPECIFIED > COLORS? I tried selecting all, copying, and pasting into a Word document in > hopes that it would retain the colors, but it doesn't. Any other ideas?
>
> Sarah Jane

.

-
- Prev by Date: Re: Good challenge on header/footer
 - Next by Date: Re: Paste event
 - Previous by thread: Re: Email body with a script and a table
 - Next by thread: Re: Print VBA code in Editor format colors
 - Index(es):

Re: Print VBA code in Editor format colors

- ◆ Date
- ◆ Thread