

Re: Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property

Re: Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Excel/microsoft.public.excel.programming/2005-11/msg04078.html>

---

- From: "Tom Ogilvy" <twogilvy@xxxxxxx>
  - Date: Tue, 29 Nov 2005 13:08:42 -0500
-

Seems like it would be easier to just use a collection. However:

<http://tinyurl.com/begok>

--

Regards,
Tom Ogilvy

<mimiqinc@xxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:1133285768.202602.230590@xx
> NAME PROPERTY OF BUILT IN RANGE CLASS.
>
> I created a custom class of objects that would juggle a huge amount of > ranges. If you look at the custom class I created it defines a property > of type Range.
>

---

• References:

- ◆ Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property
    ◇ From: mimiqinc
- ◆ Re: Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property
    ◇ From: Bob Phillips
- ◆ Re: Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property
    ◇ From: mimiqinc

- Prev by Date: Re: Copy enabled / Pasted disabled
- Next by Date: Re: Pivots
- Previous by thread: Re: Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property
- Next by thread: Statusbar messages stop updating

Re: Create my own Class Object for Ranges, having trouble assigning name property

- Index(es):

- ◆ Date

- ◆ Thread