

Re: Set range or named range?

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Excel/microsoft.public.excel.programming/2005-12/msg01688.html>

- From: "Tom Ogilvy" <twogilvy@xxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 7 Dec 2005 10:21:58 -0500
-

Intra_mA.Copy Range("Destination")

--

Regards,
Tom Ogilvy

"Ian" <me@xxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:xnClf.79\$N95.24@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

- > I am creating a series of sheets where basic data is entered on a userform
- > then ranges are copied from a lookup sheet are copied to a sheet to create
- a
- > configured layout.
- >
- > To create the ranges I am currently using:
- > Dim Intra_mA as Range
- > Set Intra_mA = Worksheets("Lookup").Range("A13:F20")
- >
- > To copy the range I then use
- >
- > Intra_mA.Copy Worksheets("Dental").Range("A16")
- >
- > Would it be easier to create named ranges on the lookup sheet, and how
- would
- > I then implement the copy routine?
- >
- > I am thinking this because I just came across an error in my original
- setup
- > for one of the sheets which meant I had to insert another line into a
- range,
- > thereby offsetting all the ranges below it.
- >
- > --
- > Ian
- > --
- >
- >
- >

- Follow-Ups:

- ◆ Re: Set range or named range?

- ◆ From: Ian

- References:

- ◆ Set range or named range?

- ◆ From: Ian

- Prev by Date: Re: making directories

- Next by Date: Re: Copy Contract Number to CenterFooter on multiple sheets

- Previous by thread: Set range or named range?

- Next by thread: Re: Set range or named range?

- Index(es):

- ◆ Date

- ◆ Thread