

Re: String Parsing : Best Methods : VBA

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Excel/microsoft.public.excel.programming/2006-01/msg04967.html>

- From: "Tom Ogilvy" <twogilvy@xxxxxxx>
 - Date: Mon, 23 Jan 2006 09:25:28 -0500
-

Possibly by using regular expressions

<http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb:en-us:818802&Product=vbb>
HOW TO: Use Regular Expressions in Microsoft Visual Basic 6.0

--
Regards,
Tom Ogilvy

"vmegha" <vmegha@xxxxxxx> wrote in message
<news:1138024167.518078.318160@xx>

> Hi,
>
> Anybody, with any advice / suggestions on what is the best methods > /practices on parsing strings. I have a really huge string, that > provides a major performance Bottleneck while reading through. Right > now I split it by a delimiter, fill it into a Variant and run through > each (shorter length) string within the Variant, and use Instr , Mid$ > and Right$ while parsing out a Key, Value Pair. Any ideas, any > articles?
>
> Thanks in Advance,
> Regards,
> Megha
>

-
- References:
 - ◆ String Parsing : Best Methods : VBA
 - ◇ From: vmegha
 - Prev by Date: Re: Output list based on value in a cell

Re: String Parsing : Best Methods : VBA

- Next by Date: Re: Playing a WAV file in Excel 2002
- Previous by thread: String Parsing : Best Methods : VBA
- Next by thread: Re: How to: assign a value to a cell without selecting the cell first
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread