

Re: Show/Hide Functions/Formulas

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Excel/microsoft.public.excel/2007-10/msg01021.html>

- From: Dave Peterson <petersod@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 18 Oct 2007 13:49:37 -0500
-

I use a USA keyboard, so this is just a guess.

If you close excel and reopen it in safe mode, does ctrl-` work ok?

Close excel
windows start button|Run
excel /safe
Type in a formula and test it.

If that works ok, then maybe you have a macro that's been assigned to that combination of keys.

Smirnoff wrote:

For some reason the keyboard shortcut (Ctrl+`) does not toggle show/hide function.

Selecting Tools>Formula Auditing>Formula Auditing mode works fine.

I am wondering if it is because I have regional (keyboard) settings set to UK English Extended.

I know the `(grave) key works and have tried it with both Ctrl keys with no luck.

Help please.

--

Dave Peterson

.