

Re: Public Folders Permissions Granting Issue

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Exchange/microsoft.public.exchange.admin/2005-01/3514.html>

From: Rui J.M. Silva (rjms(nospam4me)_at_oninet.pt)

Date: 01/25/05

Date: Tue, 25 Jan 2005 22:33:08 -0000

You need to be "owner" in order to change permissions:

Role | Grants Permission To

Owner | Create, read, modify, delete all items and files,
| create subfolders, and change permissions. All rights
| in the folder.
|
Publishing Editor | Create, read, modify, delete all items and files, and
| create subfolders.
|
Editor | Create, read, modify, and delete all items and files.
|
Publishing Author | Create, read items and files, modify, and delete items
| and files you create.
|
Author | Create, read items and files, modify, and delete items
| and files you create.
|
Non-Editing Author | Create, read items and files, and delete items and
| files you create.
|
Reviewer | Read items and files.
|
Contributor | Create items and files only. Contents do not appear.
|
None | No permissions on the folder.

--

Blog "subject: exchange"

<http://spaces.msn.com/members/ehlo>

"Josh R. Andrews" <jra@kccllc.com> wrote in message news:Oz0fpTyAFHA.2568@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

> Dear All --

>

> I'm having problems granting appropriate public folder permissions in > Exchange Server 2003 Enterprise Edition (Spl running on Windows Server > 2003, Enterprise Edition.)

>

> There is a contacts folder in our public folders that contains a number of > items. I would like to grant some of our users the ability to edit items microsoft.public.exchange.admin: Re: Public Folders Permissions Granting Issue > in the folder and create new items (Publishing Editor role, essentially.)

> The only problem is when I grant this role, no matter what I do, I always > get the message:
>
> "Your changes could not be saved because you don't have permission to > modify some or all of the items in the folder. Do you want to save a copy > of the item in the default folder for the item."
>
> I have granted myself the Publishing Editor role directly on the folder > (to get out of any group-related problems that I have read about). No > luck. I have gone so far as to grant the "Default" user AND the > "Anonymous" user the Publishing Editor role as well. No luck.
> "Administrator" is the owner of the folder. I've restarted Outlook and > also restarted my machine (XP SP2). no luck.
>
> Do I have to reboot the $#((*@#() Exchange server to solve this? Or am I > missing some permissions setting somewhere else?
>
> Thanks,
>
> Josh