Is this limited to messages originating from a specific business domain or physical location?

Kind Regards,

Hello!

Does anyone know a special setting for msn.com and hotmail.com? It seems that I can send to and receive from any mail servers except from hotmail and msn.com.

If I send a message to hotmail or msn.com the user does not receive it and if the user sends me a message using hotmail or msn.com, I also cannot receive the user's message.

Is there a log file for exchange to view the email transactions?

Thanks
