This is a limitation of the interface. You need to use ADSIedit or some other tool to modify the values in AD. However, a 2Gb mailbox is enormous you seriously need to consider whether this is ideal.

Does anybody knows if there is default mailbox size, when I tried to configure the storage limits in AD over 2 gig a message said:

The value for 'Issue warning at (KB)' is not valid. Specify a value from 0 through 2097151.

Using Windows 2003 server and Exchange 2003.
