

Email Help

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Exchange/microsoft.public.exchange.admin/2006-08/msg04242.html>

---

- From: zylinius1983@xxxxxxxxxx
  - Date: 25 Aug 2006 10:05:16 -0700
-

Hello,

I have a few questions on the configuration that I'd like to setup.

What we have:

SBS 2003 Premium.(runs our exchange ect.)

What I want

A second server on a different IP address to handle sending Newsletters.

Why:

I work for a publishing company. We recently added a new magazine to our production. We have an account setup at a website that offers our magazine to it's new users. We email the people who accept our offer, but we have been submitted as spam to SORBs by some of the less intelligent users who select yes to everything without realizing what they have agreed to. I wish to send our "Bulk" emails from a different IP address so if we don't run into the issue of having our main server end up being listed as a Spamming server.

Thanks

.