

Re: multiple Domain name delivery problem

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Exchange/microsoft.public.exchange.admin/2007-04/msg02610.html>

- From: RAMII <RAMII@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 26 Apr 2007 13:00:02 -0700
-

That is what is confuses me also! she has been complaining for a couple weeks, but i have just started to work on it & didn't believe it until i tried to troubleshoot it myself!

"Susan" wrote:

that's truly amazing...I have never, in 12+ years working with Exchange, seen message tracking show that a message was delivered when it was not...

--
Susan Conkey [MVP]

"RAMII" <RAMII@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:870D8131-878C-490E-85CE-ED5E2127C7DF@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

i did check the dumpster. no messages from the sender show there. I verified that the messages are not being deleted or anything. (by the user, or by any rules or anything.) The messages are not getting blocked by any spam filters or virus scan either, as i open the account in OWA, & Outlook on multiple computers with the same results.

"Susan" wrote:

you checked the dumpster for all folders?
<http://support.microsoft.com/kb/886205/en-us>

--
Susan Conkey [MVP]

Re: multiple Domain name delivery problem

"RAMII" <RAMII@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:2A4190C6-B6BF-4CD5-847A-71CC7DD97B64@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Thanks Susan, I did an Advanced find on all the user's folders & only come up with the known emails that were already there. though this user was only using OWA & still had the same issue, i went ahead & did this through Outlook 2003. I think i have looked at everything to try to figure this out.
Aga