I have one user that can login to the OWA but as soon as they click on a folder or double click on an item in the inbox it will prompt for the username and password again. Regardless what folder, addressbook, calendar, etc... It just keeps asking for the username/password.... This problem occurs wether they login using premium or basic or private or public computer.

And none of the other users are having problems and i have logged in with the problem account from multiple computers.

How do i fix this problem?
