hi, i bought a laptop yesterday and it is asking for the product key for vista home premium, i have located the number and have typed it in again and again and again, it says invalid. I have typed the number correctly and everything even my parents have had a turn but to no avail. Yes it does say invalid not inuse, so please help me.....

1. contact the salesman you have bought your laptop from, he has to solve it
 2. this group is for foxpro users
