VFP9 on XP Pro SP1

I'm sure I somehow changed some setting will doing all my normal setup on my new installation of VFP9, but I didn't even know this was possible...

In the code editing window, the Object and Procedure dropdowns are using Courier as the font for the list items. The current object and method shown when the list is not dropped down continues to be in the expected Arial-like font, but the contents of both drop downs are Courier. Wierd. I've fiddled with the Tools>Options settings that are font-related, but it doesn't seem to change this.

So what did I do and how do I undo it? :^?
