

Re: Rich Text on a report

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Fox/microsoft.public.fox.vfp.reports.printing/2005-03/0035.html>

---

From: Jerry (ideasREMOVE_at_lwolf.com)

Date: 03/21/05

Date: Mon, 21 Mar 2005 13:56:41 -0500

Hi Matthew, did the other machine with MS Word ever have Word Viewer installed? Have you been able to try it on a computer without either program already installed? I have only come across this a couple of times and the solutions described earlier seemed to resolve the situation for me. Sorry I couldn't be more help.

Jerry

"HGC NET-YAN" <tokaho_nospam@nospam.bcluster.on-nets.com> wrote in message news:d1e4cs$vr$1@news.hgc.com.hk...

> Hi Jerry

>

> Thanks for you help. I do have MS Word Viewer installed in my machine. I > still cannot print the rtf general field in the report after I changed the > default value of .rtf in registry as you have mentioned.

> I also ran the report in a machine with MS Word installed, still cannot > print the rtf general field.

>

> Matthew

>

> "Jerry" <ideasREMOVE@lwolf.com>

> ¼¼g©ó¶¶Yó·s»D:OzwdOFyKFHA.572@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...

> > Hi Matt, I've had this issue before. What we found was that MS Word

> Viewer

> > was causing the problem, but uninstalling it or changing the files > > association for it didn't do anything. What we had to do was edit the > > registry or install MS Word. The registry entry that needs to be changed > > is

> > the HKEY_CLASSES_ROOT\.rtf, select the "(Default)" key and change this > > value to "rtffile"

> >

> >

> > Hope this helps,

> >

> > Jerry

> >

> > BTW: Regarding Rich Text controls & a general field on a report, does > > anyone > > know if vfp 9 has provided us with a better solution to printing Rich Text > > controls. The problem is that a lot of the third-party products (Mind's > > Eye,

> > XFRX, FRX2Any...) can't print the general fields. Is there a way to save > > the > > Rich Text as an image or something then print it?
> >
> >
> >
> > "Matthew" <tokaho_nospam@nospam.bcluster.on-nets.com> wrote in message > > news:eACvjcsKFHA.1280@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl...
> >> I have a report with an activeX bound control to print a general field > > which > >> contents a richtext.rtf. The report does not print the rich text > > "content"
> >> rather it prints an "rtf icon" with filename.
> >> I checked that I had already registered richtx32.ocx
> >> I followed the procedure of "how do I print rich text on a report" in > >> Cathy's report writer book.
> >> Am I miss something ?
> >>
> >> Please help.
> >>
> >> Matthew
> >>
> >>
> >
> >
>
>