

Form results to email

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/FrontPage/microsoft.public.frontpage.client/2004-02/3681.html>

---

anonymous_at_discussions.microsoft.com

Date: 02/22/04

Date: Sat, 21 Feb 2004 20:12:48 -0800

Thanks for the input Tom and Jon. I think there is something the host needs to do because I did try uploading the form and had an error page displayed when I tried to "submit" my response. I have an email message in to my hosting provider who (I hope) will know how to fix the problem. Thanks again :)

--Maureen

>-----Original Message-----

>How do I get form results to be sent via email instead of >the default _private/feedback.txt? When I try to change >the results to be emailed in the form I get an error >message to the effect that the server extensions have not >been configured to send email. When I search for this on >my hosting provider's site I get a very difficult to >understand reponse telling me to open the IIS manager >(have NO clue what this is), right click the web site >that FP extensions are installed, select properties and >then the server extensions 2002 tab and configure the >email from there. Does anyone have any idea what they are >talking about on this? It sounds like I need to contact >my web hosting provider but wanted to run it by you here >to see what you think before doing so. Thanks a bunch!
>
>
>
>