| | For some reason I am not able to access my website, using FP2002, here at | my
| office, using my laptop. I have never had the problem before. What's | happening is that when I try to access the website through FP2002 my user
| name and password are not being recognized? I am trying to use the same
| information that I have had since day one. At first I figured I had an
| ISP
| issue, but when I went home last night and used my desktop system, with
| all
| of the same information, I had no problem whatsoever. What do I have to | clear out and reconfigure on my laptop to make the access work?

| Help?
