Hi Shawn,

Doesn't look like FPSE is configured on the Web site!

In IIS, under the default web site check if we have a _vti_bin virtual directory point to C:\Program Files\Common Files\Microsoft Shared\Web Server Extensions\50\isapi.

Next if you browse into _Vti_bin, you must find _vti_adm and then a fpadmdll.dll file.

If these do not exist, then the installation has not happened correctly.

If this is the case, then rerun the FPSE install program, it will ask you to repair or uninstall, select uninstall, then reboot and then reinstall.

Regards,
Vijay

| Again, thank you for your help. I'm going out of my mind here...
