I think your attitude, whoever you are, sucks more than Tom's. This is a newsgroup that is oriented specifically to the use and abuse of FPSE.

To have a suppliant repeated ignore the FPSE advise and continually demand hardware or viewer-specific answers, for which we do not claim competence—is more than a little annoying. Tom showed admirable restraint.

Were you not hiding under your cloak of invisibility, you would go into my kill file and really be invisible.
