

Re: If Architects had to work like Programmers

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/FrontPage/microsoft.public.frontpage.programming/2004-07/0151.html>

From: Jon Spivey (jons_at_mvps.org)

Date: 07/03/04

Date: Sat, 3 Jul 2004 03:51:19 +0100

You couldn't hack it as an architect so you decided to become a "programmer." I bet the "filthy corrupt pigs" are to blame for you not being able to make a living in this industry too.

One might think a pattern is developing here :-)

--

Cheers,

Jon

Microsoft MVP - FP

"clintonG" <csgallagher@REMOVETHISTEXT@metromilwaukee.com> wrote in message news:OwznT7IYEHA.384@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

> Kevin I have some bad news. I am a degreed architect and have > been working with 'programming' for a very very long time and > I hate to break it to you but architects 'do' have to work like > programmers with one exception:
>
> The United States has become a facist nation of filthy corrupt pigs.
> An architect must become 'registered' by the state which controls > who can and who can not work. Working without permission from > the state can and does incur criminal prosecution. Achieving the > registration requires working for an employer who may or may > not choose to assign work to a person that is required for credit > by the state who issues the registration once a certain number of > credit hours are accumulated. Do you see the corruption here?
> The law sets the requirements but there is no way to meet them > without indentured servitude and years of boot licking.
>
> All of the rationale for this is fraudulent as the fascist pigs claim > registration ensures that the public's safety, health, and welfare > is 'assured'. BULLSH!T Who has ever heard of an architect or > engineer who was sent to prison? It doesn't happen. There are > problems in the construction industry and some very corrupt inviduals > and firms for sure but everything gets settled in the 'civil' courts > anyway.
>
> There never has been and there never will be a registration that can > 'assure' a service provider is ethical or does not and will not make > mistakes. Thus, the entire aspect of 'registration' is by definition fascism.
>
> On the other hand, software development is still totally merit based > and has no little neo-nazis -- yet -- that can use politics and corrupt > manipulation of the markets to prosecute people as criminals for microsoft.public.frontpage.programming: Re: If Architects had to work like Programmers

> >
> > To insure that you are building the correct house for our entire family, > > make certain that you contact each of our children, and also our in-laws. My > > mother-in-law will have very strong feelings about how the house should be > > designed, since she visits us at least once a year. Make sure that you weigh > > all of these options carefully and come to the right decision. I, however,
> > retain the right to overrule any choices that you make.
> >
> > Please don't bother me with small details right now. Your job is to develop > > the overall plans for the house: get the big picture. At this time, for > > example, it is not appropriate to be choosing the color of the carpet.
> > However, keep in mind that my wife likes blue.
> >
> > Also, do not worry at this time about acquiring the resources to build the > > house itself. Your first priority is to develop detailed plans and > > specifications. Once I approve these plans, however, I would expect the > > house to be under roof within 48 hours.
> >
> > While you are designing this house specifically for me, keep in mind that > > sooner or later I will have to sell it to someone else. It therefore should > > have appeal to a wide variety of potential buyers. Please make sure before > > you finalize the plans that there is a consensus of the population in my > > area that they like the features this house has.
> >
> > Please prepare a complete set of blueprints. It is not necessary at this > > time to do the real design, since they will be used only for construction > > bids. Be advised, however, that you will be held accountable for any > > increase of construction costs as a result of later design changes.
> >
> > You must be thrilled to be working on an interesting project as this! To be > > able to use the latest techniques and materials and to be given such freedom > > in your designs is something that can't happen very often. Contact me as > > soon as possible with your complete ideas and plans.
> >
> > P.S.:
> > My wife has just told me that she disagrees with many of the instructions
> > I've given you in this letter. As architect, it is your responsibility to > > resolve these differences. I have tried in the past and have been unable to > > accomplish this. If you can't handle this responsibility, I will have to > > find another architect.
> >
> > P.P.S.:
> > Perhaps what I need is not a house at all, but a travel trailer. Please > > advise me as soon as possible if this is the case.
> >
> >
>

microsoft.public.frontpage.programming: Re: If Architects had to work like Programmers

>
>