Hi all.

We're testing ISA2006ED on Win2K3ED joined to Win2K Active Directory.

We use AD Groups to control web access thru ISA. But what we notice is that sometimes ISA loses connection to AD, making end-users no access to the web. Not only that, but when logging on locally using domain account, it says "cannot find the domain". The only way sometimes is shutdown/start the server for it to connect again to AD.

Has anyone experience this kind of problem.

regards,
sherwin
