

Re: Viewing webpage in intranet

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Internet-Server/microsoft.public.inetserver.iis.activeserverpages/2004-09/0020>

From: Jeff North (jnorth_at_yourpantsbigpond.net.au)

Date: 09/17/04

Date: Fri, 17 Sep 2004 15:03:11 GMT

On 17 Sep 2004 06:48:06 -0700, in microsoft.public.inetserver.iis.activeserverpages danieltan@time.net.my (Daniel Tan) wrote:

>| Thanks Jeff. I just discovered that i have not enable the IIS service
>| so it would not appeared. Btw how to enable the web service like www
>| or http and can be viewed from internet ?

You get yourself an ISP that will host your web pages.
You can register a domain name etc.
I would never host a site from my computer unless you wanted a lot of people hacking your computer.

jnorth@yourpantsbigpond.net.au : Remove your pants to reply
