

Re: Cant run cgi scripts

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Internet-Server/microsoft.public.inetsrvr.iis/2004-04/1040.html>

---

From: John Cesta (support\_at\_serverautomationtools.com)

Date: 04/11/04

Date: Sun, 11 Apr 2004 12:41:59 GMT

On Sat, 10 Apr 2004 13:36:54 -0400, "Larry Hyman"
<larry@hyman.sytes.netDELETETHIS> wrote:

>When I installed active Perl on two of my servers, all I did was run the >install program. I answered all the questions during the install. after I >rebooted the machine. After the reboot, I copied a .pl script into one of my >websites (with no mods) and it worked. I was surprised that I could run a >.pl script from any web dir on the server. I made absolutely no changes to >the IIS server. Active state made all the config setting and after the >reboot everything worked, and works well,

You must have scripts and executables turned on all your sites.

John Cesta

-----
The CPU Checker – Maximize Server Uptime
LogFileManager – The only IIS Logfile Management Tool
DomainReportIt PRO – Helps Convert IIS Installs
<http://www.serverautomationtools.com>

>
>If you need some info, I would be glad to go to my settings and share with >you whatever they are.