

Re: IIS 5 and Logs

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Internet-Server/microsoft.public.inetserver.iis/2004-06/0515.html>

From: John Cesta (lists_at_lookwww.com)

Date: 06/04/04

Date: Fri, 4 Jun 2004 06:22:40 -0400

The logs don't write in real time. You will most likely find a M$ KB article on this. Could be that the last time your site was accessed was 9:40

John Cesta

The CPU Checker – Maximize Server Uptime
LogFileManager – The only IIS Logfile Management Tool
DomainReportIt PRO – Helps Convert IIS Installs
<http://www.serverautomationtools.com>

On Fri, 4 Jun 2004 05:44:24 -0400, Fabrizio Maccarrone wrote:

> I set on of my sites on IIS 5 on w2k server sp4 to log monthly.
>
> When I try to open log and go to eof (end of file) I see logged > only access > of about 2 hours ago...:-(
>
> Ex: I analyze txt log file of site A on 11:40 AM.
>
> The last line I can see on that file has 09:40 as time > information....
>
> What is happening ?
>
> Any help or suggestions much appreciated.
>
> Best Regards.