Hello

I have a PIII 600 MHz system with 256 MB RAM
OS: Windows XP Prof Edition

After my system boot up, when i try to view a page for the first time from localhost, it takes about 2 to 3 minutes to process the page!
after that, everything works fine!

I have IIS 5.1 installed. what could be the problem? I checked the services immediately after bootup, the IISAdmin service, World Wide Publishing are set to "automatic" and gets started during startup itself!

then, why there is delay when i try to open a location in localhost for the first time???

any help would be appreciated!
regards,
Ganesh Anand
