

Re: refuses to start .htm files

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Internet-Server/microsoft.public.inetserver.iis/2004-06/2326.html>

From: Andre (aa_at_no.it)

Date: 06/21/04

Date: Mon, 21 Jun 2004 14:47:04 +0200

I noticed this:

when ZoneAlarm (firewall) is loaded, htm files are refused, but otherwise, no. In both cases, ASP files are accepted...

Any explanation?

"Andre" <aa@no.it> wrote in message

news:%23NF6NTwVEHA.3696@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

> Hi,

>

> I have an intranet application on an IIS 5.0 with ASP and ordinary HTM files. The IIS server is also connected with the ADSL modem to internet.

> When i remain local (10.0.0.x IP for IIS) i have no problem, but when i put > it on internet (IIS has now the IP from the provider: i changed therefore > the property IP of the Web Site tab in that IP), IIS refuses to start any

> htm files, like this example:

> function infopconclick()

> { window.navigate("infopc.htm") }

>

> When clicking on the button, you can see the blue bar right below growing > very slowly but nothing will happen.

> The solution is to change infopc.htm to infopc.asp and then it works!!

>

> Can anybody tell me why? And is there anything to do about this?

>

> Thanks

> Andre

>

>