Did you install the Handheld Synchronization software properly? Look at the installation instructions here:

<http://home.earthlink.net/~mickey.stevens/tutorials/entouragesync.html#palm>

If you have installed it, follow the instructions farther down the page for the common problem "Synchronization between Entourage 2004 and Palm device fails".

Note that the wording for the options and file/folder names might be different if you are not using an English language copy of Office, but the procedure should be similar.
