For the most part, the Project Center has been a big help in organizing my jobs. However, the projects I share (on a share drive) do not recognize the changes I make after their initial creation.

1. I create the Project, add tasks
2. I select to Share the Project
3. I invite email other to come in on the Project
4. Others can view the project and make additions or changes.
5. I make changes or additions.

The problem: I do not see any changes others are making, they don't see any changes I make to the projects or tasks.

We all have access to the project folder on the share drive.

Any ideas why we can't see updates?

Thanks, Mark
