As far as anti-spyware programs go, you may use more than one. As far as anti-virus programs go, use only one. You will never get a definitive answer that any one of them is "better" so try them.

Since I will be using AVG anti-virus and firewall, I was thinking of using the AVG Ewido anti-spyware just because then I would be dealing with a single vendor (although maybe there is really no advantage in this case). Also, because AVG is so highly recommended for anti-virus, I assume they know what they are doing with anti-spyware too.
