

Re: pictures transfer from PC to Mac via hotmail

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Mac/microsoft.public.macintosh.general/2004-07/0101.html>

From: Ramón G Castañeda (sorry.nomail_at_all.com)

Date: 07/30/04

Date: Fri, 30 Jul 2004 13:00:52 -0700

In article 410a9e9a$0$29431$626a14ce@news.free.fr, Johnny at jean.huberson@free.fr wrote on 7/30/04 12:16:

- > I encountered a problem sending a panorama picture
- > from a PC to a Mac OS via a hotmail address. It was
- > 376kB long and arrived with a 505kB length in addition
- > it was distorted.
- > Any idea what causes this.
- > TIA
- > John Huberson
- >
- >

It's not unusual for image files to get damaged in transit. Some mail servers and ISPs even apply further compression to files. Try sending them as zipped files to preserve the integrity of the file.

Please re-assemble my email address to reply privately if you are so inclined: ramonc at surewest dot net .

Otherwise, replies to the Newsgroup are always welcome.