Hi.

I have a problem that is driving me bonkers.
I have a windows media player playing in firefox.
It seems to be loading the page twice (a few milliseconds apart). I have a method in my page_load that writes to the database. The problem is that it is writing twice due to the repeat page-load. I have tried sessions but the reload is clearing the session, i think. I also tried putting a variable (dim x as int = 0) as a global variable and incrementing the count but it is getting reset also.

I am using a dynamic ASX file to capture a running visit count and the count is getting incremented twice instead of once.

What is causing this? How can I prevent this from happening???
Help!?
