Hi thank you for you answer,
it was very very quick ;)
You said "If you used the setup project (created by Visual Studio) to create the msi install package, it should be fine." and I did so but my AddIn don't want to work...

I don't understand about using regasm.exe. I guess it's a tool but What is this program used for? (is it a good sentence? Sorry my english is very bad...)

I checked the registry on my own computer and on the computer where I tried to install it, there is no differences ... That's why I'm wondering why my AddIn don't work on this second one.
The only difference is it's on my own PC that I developped my AddIn with VS 2003 that's all. Both of them have the framework installed and the same OS with MS Office 2000...
I tried many installation/uninstallation to fix it but nothing! (But I did not remove keys myself in the registry)

Any idea?
